

Great Lakes Indian Fish and Wildlife Commission and Host Tribe
Keweenaw Bay Indian Community present
Ishpaagoonikaa “Deep Snow” Cultural Camp
February 15-17 2019

NIIWIN AKEAA CENTER
111 Beartown Road
Baraga, MI 49908

Ishpaagoonikaa seeks to increase knowledge and utilization of treaty rights in harvesting and protecting natural resources, encouraging environmental stewardship, and promoting natural resource careers.

Additionally, the program strives to increase leadership skills in tribal youth, foster Intergenerational learning opportunities between tribal elders and tribal youth, and focus on passing traditional Anishinaabe winter activity knowledge from generation to generation.

This year's Ishpaagoonikaa program will be held in Baraga, Michigan, on February 15-17, 2019, where Great Lakes Indian Fish and Wildlife Commission's (GLIFWC) will partner with the Keweenaw Bay Indian Community (KBIC). Tribal youth will interact with elders, cultural knowledge sharers and GLIFWC Law Enforcement officers in activities such as ice fishing, storytelling, deer processing, outdoor cooking, snow snake play, winter shelter building, Ishkode (fire) making, outdoor survival tactics, canning, empowerment talk circles, drumming, cultural crafting, and moccasin games. Programs seeks youth ages 9-15. Older youth may apply to serve as mentors.

Participants must spend both nights in the KBIC College gym. Saturday meal will include a feast and family members are welcome to bring a dish and stay for storytelling.

The program will start on Friday at 6 pm EST and conclude Sunday at 1:00 pm EST.
Deadline for applications is Jan. 28, 2019.
